

Customer Testimonial

Company:	Global manufacturer of high tech valves, actuators and associated parts
Industry:	Aerospace/Defense
Chemicals/Solvents:	Military Spec Mineral Spirits
Chemical Volume:	11,000 gallons per year
Onsite Equipment:	CleanPlanet CC-5000V
Annual Savings:	$110,000
Waste Reduction:	85-90%

Application Profile

The company uses solvent for cleaning after machining extremely high precision components. They currently purchase approximately 11,000 gallons of the high-grade, odorless mineral spirits per year. They also ship out approximately 9,350 gallons of spent solvent. Annualized savings will exceed $100,000. Additional savings are being realized by reducing waste by 85-90%.

The CC-5000V that CleanPlanet installed replaced a 40-gallon distillation unit that the manufacturer had purchased 3 years ago. That machine failed to produce odor-free solvent that met the company's tolerance levels and specifications. The company sold the machine to a wholesaler for a fraction of the original cost, and made room for the CC-5000V. In addition to providing recycled solvent with superior efficacy and no odor, the CC-5000V required 75% less floor space.

"It is refreshing to deal with a company that truly has its customer's best interests in mind. I would not hesitate to recommend CleanPlanet to anyone."

- Environmental Compliance Technician

"We attempted recycling of our waste mineral spirits using a distillation unit purchased in 2010. The unit did not meet our expectations and several internal problems forced the project to be scrapped. During an onsite environmental summit I learned that one of our other locations had been using CleanPlanet with great success. After discussing my unique challenges, they installed their CC5000 equipment free of charge.

My entire team was pleasantly surprised with the unit and equally impressed with their offer and customer service. They came on site, hooked up the machine and made sure it was working properly. It worked as promised.

It is refreshing to deal with a company that truly has its customer's best interests in mind. I would not hesitate to recommend CleanPlanet to anyone."

- Environmental Compliance Technician
Aerospace Manufacturer